

Name:

Roll No:

Class: Section:

Date:

PROGRAMMING WITH PYTHON

Chapter-9

A. Write any three rules for naming variables in Python.

1.
2.
3.

B. Write 'T' for true and 'F' for false. Correct the false statements.

1. The float() function converts a float or string variable into int data type.
.....
2. Comments are the text written inside the code for better understanding of the code.
.....
3. The + operator is used to check the equality between two values.
.....
4. IDLE stands for Integrated Development and Learning Environment.
.....

C. Match the following:

- | | |
|---------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1. print() | a. Execute a program file |
| 2. Run → Run Module | b. Floor Division |
| 3. // | c. #Program on simple calculator |
| 4. Comment | d. Display output on the screen |

D. Write the names of any three features of Python.

1.
2.
3.